

Leon & Charise De Vry

16 September 2006

As a young girl, I have always dreamed of my very own fairy tale wedding. Leon and I have been together for seven years, and so I had many years to dream of my prince on his white horse. Leon proposed to me on the 2nd October 2005, after our friends and family had shared communion at Sondela Holiday Resort near Bela Bela.

The week of my wedding was a time of laughter, tears and hard work. My mothers Hettie and Louise, my grandmother, and all their friends, joined in to arrange all the flowers for the wedding day; we made 28 arrangements that week – the flowers were all the colours of the rainbow.

As we arrived at the Chapel, two young pastors from our church sang a song composed especially for the two of us. "...I love you, you're my beginning and my end, you're the reason that I sing, I love you" And as I joined Leon, the feeling was so intense, he started to cry.

The moment we had waited and worked so hard for, arrived, as we were joined before God in the covenant of marriage by Pastor Jan Swanepoel, who, as our pastor from childhood, had watched us and our love grow. Just as when we were engaged, we shared communion before God, our first love. To Him we give all the praise and glory for giving us to one another. We know that ours is a match made in heaven.

I would like to thank all our friends and family, and the Oakfield personnel, and in particular our parents for the great wedding you gave us.
