

Samantha & Chris Maritz

14 October 2005

It is amazing how those four little words, "will you marry me?" can change your life. Chris proposed to me on Valentine's Day; at the time it seemed to be the only day he could pull off being utterly romantic without my suspecting a thing! For me, the answer was simple – an instant heart-pounding "yes," and we agreed to spend the rest of our lives together.

It is easy to be swept along with the preparations for the wedding. I was very thankful to have my family and friends to guide me. The support my parents gave us throughout was immeasurable. After attending numerous wedding expo's, paging through what felt like hundreds of bridal magazines, and using Oakfield Farm and their Bridal Library as my inspiration, I realised that the only way I would be satisfied was to make sure every detail of the wedding reflected our personalities.

After all the major decisions were made, all that was left to do was to hand over to the Oakfield staff, who put all the pieces of our puzzle together and made everything flow perfectly on the day. We just sat back and enjoyed every minute of what can only be described as a wonderful occasion.
